Celliss: the slimming revolution

● In cooperation with our partner DMS Group, proven experts in the medical diagnostic imaging field, we are pleased to present "CELLISS", an innovative body contouring device that doesn't even need a therapist to fight Cellulite and help to reduce weight.

This completely unique slimming machine based on a new treatment method, Cellumassage, relies on the patented "Total Slimming System" (T.S.S.) technology, a non-invasive aspiration/percussion process that simultaneously treats thighs and hips as well as buttocks or abdominals (depending on the client's position). Gharieni CELLISS is a powerful tool designed to satisfy all your requirements. Via the intuitive touch screen interface, the treatment program can be personalized. Protocols can be accessed with one quick touch, and once the treatment is launched, it does not require any intervention. The integrated protocols were developed by health/ beauty/sport professionals and allow operators to adjust the Cellumassage according to the selected treatments and the client's profile. Easy to use, this high technology device is remarkably efficient.

Celliss INNOVATION

- ANTI CELLULITE SOLUTION
- SIMULTANEOUS ACTION
- MULTIZONE APPLICATION
- PERSONALIZED TREATMENTS
- OPERATOR INDEPENDENT
- NON-INVASIVE
- EASY TO USE

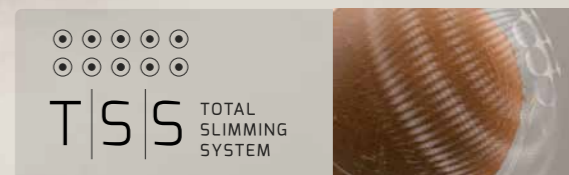

● Gharieni CELLISS brings a "whole" new approach to slimming treatments. The "Total Slimming System" (T.S.S.) technology allows CELLISS to treat "whole" zones at the same time. With our sophisticated intuitive software tool, operators have access to personalized programs adaptable for each client's individual needs.

Celliss

TECHNOLOGY

- The Cellumassage method, featured on the CELLISS, provides the ONLY solution capable of treating a significant surface of the body, simultaneously. The adjustable and adaptable aspiration/percussion cycle, with variable intensities and speeds, massages the skin and muscles in three dimensions. The Gharieni CELLISS optimizes treatment goals through the complete, "whole" approach of its treatment programs. Stimulating and treating such a large zone at the same time makes the overall effect of the treatment more efficient. Orange-peel is reduced, skin radiance and firmness are improved, the silhouette is reshaped and thighs, abdominals and buttocks are toned.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

- 1 The aspiration stretches and moves skin giving a 'lightness' sensation.
- 2 The percussion triggers a mechanical shockwave and compresses fat, while stimulating the body's natural detoxification process.
- 3 The combination aspiration/percussion over such a large surface at the same time optimizes the treatment's effects.

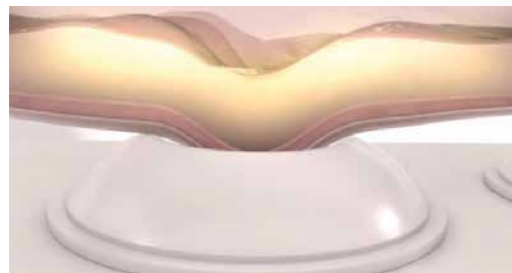

Celliss

METHOD & EFFECTS

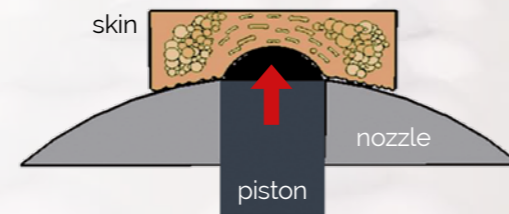

MECHANICAL ASPIRATION

- The adipocytes are removed and stretched by the waves of mechanical aspiration.

MECHANICAL PERCUSSION

- The adipocytes are disunited highly compressed by the waves of mechanical percussion.

- The TSS (Total Slimming system) is the DNA of the Gharieni Celliss. 96 pistons – each one 3 cm (1.2 in) – take action on the adipose and muscular tissues of the buttocks, abdominals or hips with a series of noninvasive aspiration/percussion movements, whose intensity and speed can be adjusted. This unique process is controlled by the Celliss software. The combination of aspiration and percussion effects on a large stimulated area is the foundation of the Cellumassage.
